

WASHINGTON, May 2 — Missouri's congressman Clare Magese has wanted his colleagues on Capitol Hill to beware the ornate cocktail party thrown by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce today.

Every year the U. S. Chamber meets in Washington and this year is staging quite a cocktail reception for congressmen. But Congressman Magese, a down-to-earth Democrat from Unionville, Mo., has vetoed the social-lobby in a letter which has made the Chamber of Commerce ears burn.

"I must decline this invitation," Magese wrote to George Smith, president of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, who had invited him. "Even the inducement of four hours of cocktails is not sufficient. In fact, you would not be able to get enough cocktails down me in sixty minutes to make me agree with what you and the United States Chamber of Commerce stand for."

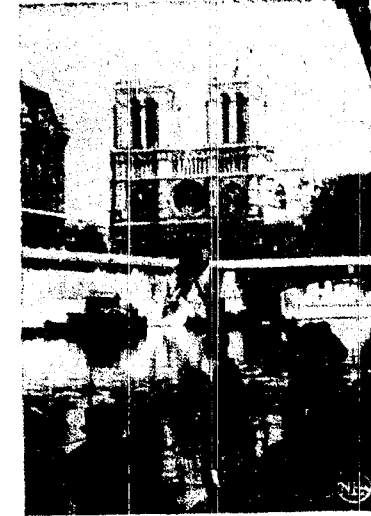

Magese had already attended one Chamber of Commerce party, he reminded Smith.

EDUCATION: By saving now, you can insure a college education for your children in the future. For every three dollars invested in Savings Bonds, you get back four dollars. That's the way your money will grow.

SAVINGS: Buying Savings Bonds is the surest, safest way of saving money—and at the highest guaranteed interest available. Rightful owners of bonds can never lose their investment through fire or theft.

IT'S YOUR GOVERNMENT: Every individual holder of Savings Bonds becomes a better citizen interested in better government because, like corporation stockholders, he has a financial stake in the United States.

RETIREMENT: Easiest and best way to set aside money now for your old age is through the purchase of Savings Bonds. With expenditures up and income from taxes down, the government can use all the support you can give.

VACATION: The best way to make that dreamed-of, once-in-a-lifetime vacation a reality is through Savings Bonds. A Bond-A-Month now will put more opportunity in your future, help get you the things you want most.

NEW HOME: Think about that dream house of yours. Then think about setting aside something from each pay for Savings Bonds. Today 5,500,000 workers are saving $100,000,000 each month through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Russia's Trump Cards

It is no secret that the heroism and efficiency of American pilots gave the state department its biggest trump card in the backstage diplomatic maneuvering over lifting the Berlin blockade. However, the Russians also have had two aces up their sleeve, one now all too obvious, the other not so obvious.

Ace No. 1 — Was China. Diplomatic reports from the Orient indicate that the campaign to take Nanking and Shanghai was advanced a month or two in order to show the western world Communism's great strength in the Far East. These big Yangtze river won't be taken until summer because of the problem of feeding them before the harvest. But the schedule was stepped up to offset the bad publicity of any Moscow surrenders at Berlin.

Ace No. 2 — Is the threat of Soviet troops withdrawal from Germany. On the surface this doesn't sound so bad, but it sends shivers up and down western spinal columns.

For the Russians have organized crack German Communist troops which would take over eastern Germany in case of Red army withdrawal. The western allies have organized such German troops and probably wouldn't entirely trust them even if organized.

meets the eye. For Morgan is vice president of the Chase National Bank and for some time the Chase bank has been trying to get a dominant financial position in western Germany.

Before the war, the Chase bank floated the largest number of short term credits to Germany, and because it was caught short with these credits at the time of the crash, Albert Wiggin was eased out as Chase's chairman.

Since the war, Chase has again sought to invade the German financial field but for a time he was blocked by Jack Bennett, the treasury department monetary expert, who did an A-1 job of setting up new German currency.

But now Bennett is out and Royal has appointed the vice president of Chase, Shephard Morgan, to take his place.

Note — John J. McCloy, intimate friend of Chase's chairman Winston Aldrich, and former attorney for the Chase bank, has now been offered Clay's job, while another Wall Street tycoon, Curtis Calder, chairman of the Giant Electric Bond and Share Corporation, is proposed as secretary of the army.

LAND AND MACHINES: Since the government has advised farmers not to buy new land and machinery now, the farmer's best bet is to sink his money into Savings Bonds. It's also a good reserve for lean years.

RAINY DAY: There may be a dark side in your future, too. Look ahead to the day when you may be out of a job, sick or incapacitated. What could be better to fall back on than Savings Bonds—the best buy in the world today.

Three Bad Alternatives

So if the Russians should withdraw, one of three things would happen:

(a) U. S. British and French armies would remain in western Germany, becoming more unpopular by the minute because of Russian withdrawal.

(b) U. S. British and French armies could withdraw altogether, in which case German Communist troops, trained by Russians, would take over all Germany.

(c) The western allies could withdraw from all Germany except the Ruhr and Rhineland — the heart of the German war machine. However, even our retention of the Ruhr would cause terrific resentment among the Germans.

the west in case of Russian attack. It looks as if the nation which lost the war might come out the victor.

Wall Street And Germany
It wasn't shouted from the Pentagon roof-top, but shortly before Kenneth Royal resigned as secretary of the army he quietly appointed Shephard Morgan as U. S. director of finance for Germany.

There is a lot more to this than

Timetable of Red Tide Sweeping Through China

Map illustrates the successive major victories whose total enabled China's Communists to overcome the major geographical obstacle of the Yangtze River and open south China to assault. Two objectives seem to be conquest of the strategic Nanking-Shanghai-Hangchow triangle and control of the Hankow-Canton railway for possible future attack on the latter city, now seat of Nationalist China's government.

NOV. 11 Communists capture Mukden, sewing up conquest of Manchuria. Red armies outfitted and armed with loot captured by Russians from Japs.

JAN. 15 Communists capture Tientsin, cutting off aid by Nationalists except by air.

JAN. 21 Chiang Kai-shek "retires," turning government over to Acting President Li Tsung-shan and ordering Nationalist air force and navy to Formosa. Acting President Li opens peace talks with Reds.

JAN. 31 Peiping falls to Reds in "negotiated" surrender. Reds push ahead in final drive to the Yangtze.

FEB. 1 Reds reach Yangtze on broad front. "Cease-fire" orders during peace talks bring lull in fighting.

APRIL 20 Communists start drive across Yangtze after Nationalists reject surrender ultimatum. South bank defenses crumble.

APRIL 24 Nanking falls without resistance. Reds take over, while their armies pour over Yangtze, isolating Shanghai, threatening vital port of Hangchow.

Communists now across Yangtze in great force, aim to link up with Red guerrilla bands numbering in thousands, that infest south China.

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK —(AP)— There is a surplus of women in America. Supply has now outrun demand in this important field. And the ratio of excess women to men is likely to continue.

What can be done about it? Particularly since medical science at present is unable to arrange a switchover in posterity production techniques — by means of which the stock would bring more baby boys and fewer baby girls.

Throughout history other civilizations have evolved several techniques for solving the problem of excess female.

Some societies have maintained a balance of the sexes by the cruel method of female infanticide. They simply killed unwanted girl babies or left them to die. In other societies all unwed women were taken into religious orders.

An Easy Way

The ancient Hindus found an easy way to dispose of widows. The bereft ladies gallantly leaped on the funeral pyres of their husbands and cremated themselves to prove they were excellent wives.

This custom, known as suttee, had two advantages. It kept the husband from being lonely in the life beyond. And it made it unnecessary for kinsmen to have to support the widow. Suttee has pretty well died out now, however, since the British government outlawed it in India. It seems too many widows were being thrown into the flames—instead of jumping in of their own accord.

But by far the commonest solution for the problem of the extra female has been polygamy, the system under which a man has several wives.

Polygamy Worked Some Places

Discussing this in the current American Mercury, Dr. Ralph Linton, sterling professor of anthropology at Yale university, says polygamy has worked successfully in a number of civilizations. He says it is doing well now in Madagascar.

"I remember the gentle sympathy which the women of the Sakalava tribe extended to my wife because she was an only wife," he writes. "He thinks that if polygamy is ever legally recognized in western countries it will 'find its most enthusiastic supporters among career women.'"

To an American husband this system certainly has obvious merits. I think ten wives would be about right, if all remained deductible for income tax purposes.

Marry First For Love

Under polygamy you would marry the first wife for love alone—as now often happens under monogamy.

The second wife would be a $52,000-a-year career woman, and she would bring her $1,000 pay check home in her mouth every week.

The third wife would be a wonderful cook.

The fourth would be maid and housekeeper—a well-muscled lass able to move heavy furniture around by herself.

The fifth would be a trained nurse, skilled at mixing hot toddies when I had a cold.

The sixth would be a plump young baby sitter. She'd care for the children and do odd jobs like bringing my slippers and lighting my cigars.

Would Sing and Dance

The seventh would sing and dance at home entertainments.

The eighth would be a secretary and an accountant. She'd keep the family budget.

The ninth I would take to sports events. And she'd never ask questions like: "Why don't they arrest that man if he is stealing bases?"

The tenth would be a glamorous, talented conversationalist. I'd take her along when the boss invited me to his house for dinner.

I think with ten wives like that any man could have a happy home. There is only one thing wrong with polygamy from a husband's viewpoint.

"He has no days off," says Dr. Linton.

It sounds too much like monogamy there.

Miss Barbara Jean Huggard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Huggard, of Rural Route 3, Sedalia, Mo., became the bride of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Carver, of St. Louis, Mo., at 3:00 p. m. Saturday afternoon at 3:00 p. m. at a wedding ceremony in the parlor of the first Christian church.

The marriage vows were exchanged before a sitting of palms, flowers and lighted candles. The bride wore a gown of white and blue, and the groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was officiated by Rev. J. W. McNeal.

The bride's bridesmaids were Misses Mary Ann Huggard, Barbara Jean Huggard, and Mary Ann Huggard. The groom's best man was Mr. James A. Carver. The wedding party was composed of the bride, groom, bridesmaids, best man, and flower girls.

The wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride and groom were surrounded by friends and relatives. The celebration was a joyous occasion for all present.

The bride and groom are now residing in St. Louis. They are expecting a baby in the near future. The wedding was a beautiful ceremony and a memorable day for all involved.

Sedalia Will Receive Her Nurse Diploma

On Tuesday evening, May 10, Alberta M. Carver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Carver, 904 East Eleventh street, Sedalia, will receive her diploma in nursing at the graduation exercises of the Missouri Baptist Hospital School of Nursing. Twenty-one fellow students all living in the attractive Nurses Residence adjoining the hospital will receive the degree of Registered Nurse at the same time.

Alberta M. Carver

The graduation exercises will climax a week of unusual activity during which the general staff of the hospital will entertain the class of 19 at a dinner in the hospital dining room. Two night nurses will also be present.

Dr. C. O. Johnson, president of the Baptist World Alliance, will conduct the benediction services in the Third Baptist church, the largest in midtown St. Louis.

Dr. Fred Eastman, pastor of the First Baptist church at Springfield, Mo., will come to St. Louis to address the graduates at the Second Baptist church, a very important service.

Dr. E. Copeland, superintendent of the hospital, will preside at the exercises with Dr. W. R. Bohrer, chief of staff, awarding the diploma.

All the graduates are among the most popular girls in the School of Nursing. She was president of the Missouri Baptist Hospital School of Nursing Student Organization and a member of the Baptist Student Union and the Young Women's Auxiliaries.

She appeared with the Glee club at social and business functions. Basketball, volleyball and swimming found time on Alberta's leisurely schedule.

While in St. Louis, Miss Carver had a chance of Baptist churches in St. Louis. She is a member of the First Baptist church in St. Louis.

PHILADELPHIA, N.Y. 2 (P)—The St. Louis Cardinals have given a bid to Leo Duca, president and manager of the New York Giants.

The Cardinals previously asked Eddie Collins, their manager, to write a letter to Commissioner A.B. Chandler a plea for Duca to be released from the penalty he is sentenced to go on the street before Cardinals' home game with the Yankees on Wednesday.

The action was taken at a club-house meeting before the

Wilburn Still Drives Like a Real 'Champ'

He And Allshire Get Trophies For Fast Time Trials

The Sedalia Lions club's first annual big car automobile racing contests were held Sunday afternoon at the Missouri State fairgrounds under the direction of Captain Frank Winkley of the Auto Racing, Inc. In spite of a downpour of rain early Sunday morning a large attendance was on hand.

Jimmy Wilburn, dirt track champion race driver, made his first appearance in racing competition for 1949. It was also his first appearance since 1948 when he had his near fatal accident at Ocala, Iowa.

Wilburn still possesses his death defying driving ability and fears nothing in his racing competition. It was about a year ago that his car cracked up. He was injured seriously and for a time he was very near death.

Trophies Presented

Robert T. Thornburg, commissioner of agriculture, was in attendance, having driven from his home in Moberly to witness the affair and to visit with the secretary of the Missouri State Fair, Roy S. Kemper.

Mr. Thornburg presented to a fellow townsmen, Owen Allshire, a beautiful trophy for winning the all-around second heat race. Allshire turned the five laps in 3:11.52.

Paul F. Hausman, president of the Lions club, presented a large trophy to Champion Wilburn after he had won the first heat race with the fastest time of the half mile, turning the five laps in 3:04.36.

Racing Results

Jimmy Wilburn, Indianapolis, Ind., driving his $20,000 Offenhauser, won the first heat race, taking five laps around the muddy track in 3:04.36. "Wild Bill" Anderson, Long Beach, Calif., driving an Offenhauser, rounded with second and Clair Cotten, Austin, Minn., driving the wheel of a Mercury, came in third.

Owen Allshire, 21-year-old lad from Moberly, Mo., driving a Ford won a trophy in the second heat with a record of 3:11.52 in five laps. Jimmy James, Mexico, Mo., driving a Mercury, finished second, and Bob Ballow, Moberly, driving a Hudson, came in third.

In the third heat race with five laps, Russ Gross of Quincy, Ill., driving a Graham special, rounded the first lap in 3:18 for first place. Second place went to Bill Patterson, Wellman, Iowa, driving a Hudson. Third place to Red Ballow, Moberly, Mo., driving a Ford V-8.

Of the three lap trophy race for the championship trophy, Jimmy came in second, and with Phil Cocco of St. Louis, driving a Hal D. O., second, and Bill Hoff, Minneapolis, Minn., driving an Offenhauser coming across the line with third place money.

The 8-lap Australian Pursuit race, an elimination race, was won by Buzz West of St. Paul, Minn., driving a Mercury. Jimmy James won second and Bill Hoff, third. This race was not clocked.

In the Grand Final Championship race, which had eleven drivers on the track for national and international dirt track championship honors, Jimmy Wilburn turned the eight laps in 4:41.90.

6 THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT Sedalia, Mo., Monday, May 2, 1949

for first position. Bill Hooper, Decatur, Ill., driving an Offenhauser, came down the home stretch with second place winner and Phil Mocco, coming in for the money in third place in this event.

Sedalia Athletics Defeated Knob Noster

The Sedalia Athletics started the 1949 season off with a victory over Knob Noster Merchants in an exhibition game at Knob Noster, Sunday afternoon. The score was 3 to 1.

The Athletics scored the first run in the third inning. Knob Noster scored its run in the fifth inning.

Shipley, a right hander, started for the Athletics and pitched five innings and Bus Walker pitched the last four, allowing only two hits.

George Thompson had a perfect day, securing four hits in four trips to the plate. He also drove in one run.

Knob Noster has played several games already this season and there are several college players on the team.

St. Joseph Team Lost Two Games

The St. Joseph Cardinals aren't invincible after all.

The Topeka Owls proved that last night by plastering two defeats on the Cardinals, 4-2 and 7-6. St. Joseph had won its first six games of the season—five from Leavenworth and one from Topeka.

Joe Verbanic's single with the bases loaded in the last of the second game, with Loren Packard scoring Topeka's winning run.

Joplin and Muskogee jumped into a five-place tie over St. Joseph by winning doubleheaders yesterday.

The league is idle today. New three-game series will open Tuesday with Leavenworth at Topeka, St. Joseph at Joplin, Hutchinson at Muskogee, and Salina at Fort Smith.

Situation is Well in Hand For Durocher

He is Scheduled To Appear Before Chandler Tuesday

By Will Grimsley
NEW YORK, May 2.—(P)—Things brightened for Leo Durocher today as the suspended manager of the New York Yankees prepared to leave for Cincinnati and a session with Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

The trigger tempered Giant boss is scheduled to appear before the commissioner tomorrow morning and explain what happened after that game at the Polo Grounds last Thursday.

A vociferous Brooklyn fan — 22-year-old Fred Boyesen — contended Lee came up behind him, poked him and knocked him down. Lee says he did not do such thing.

Brighter Look
Durocher's chances for continued baseball employment took on a lighter hue when a source close to Chandler said yesterday that the commissioner was just being cautious when he slapped an indefinite suspension on "The Lip."

This spokesman, who didn't want his name used, said the commissioner feared some sort of vandalism might break out in the Harlem district if he didn't do something quickly.

This would indicate that Chandler, not already judged the case, as some had supposed, and will weigh the evidence before rendering a verdict.

Supporters
Durocher's supporters, meanwhile, were looking up all the evidence they could get for the Chandler hearing.

Hoppe Stoneham, owner of the Giants, who has announced he will back his manager all the way, said he had affidavits from 100 fans who were eye-witnesses and who substantiate Durocher's version of the incident.

One of the affidavits is signed by George Cronk, a railroad fireman who insists he was behind Boyesen and it was he, not Durocher, who kicked and tripped over the fan. "It was accidental," added Cronk.

Durocher stayed in the seclusion of his mid-town apartment yesterday, listening to a radio account of his Giant's double defeat at the hands of the Braves in Boston.

He declined any further comment on the case.

St. Paul Leads American Assn.

By the Associated Press
Off to one of the most sensational American Association starts of recent years, St. Paul swept a Sunday doubleheader from Louisville to remain unbeaten with a 10-game winning streak.

The Saints' arch rival, Minneapolis, made a twin killing of Columbus also to compile a 10-game victory streak. However the Millers dropped their first three games and thus remain 1 1/2 games behind the pace-setting Saints.

St. Paul, downed the Colonels 4-3 and 3-1. Minneapolis edged Columbus 6-7 and 5-2 on ate inning uprisings.

Kansas City remained tied with Milwaukee and Indianapolis for third place by splitting a doubleheader with Toledo. The Blues took the start, 12-1, piling up the edge as Bob Keegan pitched hitless ball for five innings. He weakened for seven hits and was relieved in the seventh as Mudhens went on a 12-run rampage in the last four innings.

Toledo won the nightcap, 11-5. Indianapolis at Milwaukee was rained out.

Cards Triumph Over Chicago Cubs Sunday

Brecheen And Musial Teamed up To Lead The Way

By Joe Reichler
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Harry (The Cat) Brecheen and Stan Musial teamed up to give the St. Louis Cardinals an 8-3 triumph over the Cubs. Brecheen spread out 13 hits for his second victory. Musial led the hitting attack on five Cub hurlers with three hits and two walks in five times at bat.

They laughed when the Philadelphia front office announced in dead seriousness this spring that the once futile, forlorn Phillies hereafter would be known as the "Fighting Phillies."

They laughed all the harder when the Quaker City's chronic second division outfit proceeded to belie their new nickname by dropping six of their first nine starts, but that was four days ago.

Nothing Funny
They're not laughing any more. The rival National league clubs simply fail to see anything funny about a team that just got through knocking off the Brooklyn Dodgers three times in as many days on their own backyard.

Just we forget, the Dodgers were generally hated as the club to beat for the flag.

Yesterday's 4-2 victory over the Dodgers boosted the Phils out of the league cellar, 12 percent above the Chicago Cubs. They now have a won-lost record of 6-8, are only half a game out of the first division and three games behind the front running Boston Braves. They start an 11-game stand tomorrow.

They moved into undisputed first place in the National, winning both ends of a double header from the New York Giants 6-5 and 4-2, before 33,402 home town rooters.

Won His First
Johnny Annelli, Boston's high priced 19-year-old bonus sub-paw, won his first big league game in his first major league start in the nightcap. He allowed six hits, but was rescued by Nelson Potter when he walked the first three men to face him in the ninth.

Pittsburgh and Cincinnati divided a double header, the Pirates winning the opener, 10-4, and the Reds taking the second game 5-2.

The Boston Red Sox, after two straight beatings by the New York Yankees, finally came to life, blasting Alie Reynolds and Frank Shea for 14 hits and an 11-2 triumph. Johnny Pesky, Vern Stephens and Ted Williams walloped home runs for the winners.

Bob Lemon pitched a two-hitter for Cleveland, but bowed to Detroit's Hal Newhouser, 3-2, on Dick Wakefield's three-run homer in the first inning.

The Philadelphia Athletics smashed out two more victories over the hapless Washington Senators, 15-9 and 7-3, with the second game halted after seven innings because of the Pennsylvania curfew law.

The Chicago White Sox whipped the Browns twice in St. Louis, 7-6 and 14-11, to make it seven in a row over the Browns this season. In all, the Sox have won eight games, the other coming against the Tigers.

St. Paul Leads American Assn.

By the Associated Press
Off to one of the most sensational American Association starts of recent years, St. Paul swept a Sunday doubleheader from Louisville to remain unbeaten with a 10-game winning streak.

The Saints' arch rival, Minneapolis, made a twin killing of Columbus also to compile a 10-game victory streak. However the Millers dropped their first three games and thus remain 1 1/2 games behind the pace-setting Saints.

St. Paul, downed the Colonels 4-3 and 3-1. Minneapolis edged Columbus 6-7 and 5-2 on ate inning uprisings.

Kansas City remained tied with Milwaukee and Indianapolis for third place by splitting a doubleheader with Toledo. The Blues took the start, 12-1, piling up the edge as Bob Keegan pitched hitless ball for five innings. He weakened for seven hits and was relieved in the seventh as Mudhens went on a 12-run rampage in the last four innings.

Toledo won the nightcap, 11-5. Indianapolis at Milwaukee was rained out.

THE REMINDER GRIP

The "reminder grip" is a great aid in the proper position of this all-important hand. By placing the left hand to fit on this flattened surface of the club shaft, the knuckles will be in their proper place.

The left thumb on the shaft prevents the wrists from breaking up as much as might be desired, decreasing the flexibility. This results in a slight loss of power.

In general, however, the golfer will be steeper with this grip.

Let the size of your hand determine which grip to use.

Once you decide, stick to that grip, and forget about experimenting.

THE INTERLOCKING GRIP

While it has decided advantages, the interlocking grip, of which I am an exponent, is not as popular as the overlapping.

When 20-year-old Francis Ouimet beat the British masters Harry Vardon and Ted Ray, in the U. S. Open at Brookline in 1913, it was an 11-year-old caddy at Apawamis.

Francis became my idol, and I could not have picked a better one.

It has been written and said that among other things, I copied Ouimet's interlocking grip, despite the fact that we are built along entirely different lines.

In a sense that is true, but I had another reason for using this grip — my physical make-up, my strategy. My hands are small, my fingers short. Most of the ranking players are large men, or have long, stringy fingers and can use the overlapping grip efficiently.

Adapt the grip most suited to you.

Freer Wrist Action

In the illustration of the interlocking grip, note the thumb of the left hand is around the shaft against the back of the right, not on the shaft as in the overlapping.

The little finger of the right hand is locked with the index finger of the left.

The interlocking grip gives you more power because of freer wrist action in the backswing.

It allows the so-called right-hand hitter to get more power into his swing.

The left hand keeps the club-head in position, but does not stroke the ball.

The ball is hit in somewhat of a slapping motion by the right hand.

The disadvantage I find in the interlocking grip is that the hands are liable to separate at the top

Masters Play With Hands, Duffers With Their Bodies

First of a series written for NEA Service

By Gene Sarazen
Winner of Them All

Your golf game begins by holding the club.

Because 95 per cent of a golfer's trouble is caused by a faulty grip, I am starting this series with the grip.

Masters play with their hands. Duffers play with their bodies. Let your hands be the generals of your game.

The body follows the hands.

Harry Vardon introduced the overlapping grip and since his time the great names of golf, with few exceptions, have made it the more popular of the two.

The interlocking grip, used successfully by Francis Ouimet, Claude Harmon, Chick Harbert and myself, is the only other proper grip.

I will explain the reasons for my preference in the next article. Let me here stress the fact that the overlapping grip is preferable only if you possess large hands to make it work.

Note the illustration.

The left thumb is on the shaft, held in the fingers of the right hand and the palm of the left.

We note that the little finger of the right hand overlaps the forefinger of the left, thus the name of the grip.

This grip makes the two hands work as a unit because they are closer together.

The left hand acts as the hinge on a door, controls the swing. To be placed properly, you should be able to see three knuckles of your left hand while addressing the ball.

Almost a Monopoly

Paul's father, 63-year-old Tom O'Leary, has been pro at the Bismarck municipal course for 30 years and in that time has seen his pupils win 15 North Dakota titles.

Besides Paul's three victories, Dr. Paul Cook, Tom's nephew, won the amateur championship and a district title. Mrs. Nadine O'Leary Smith, won the women's title seven times. Here's wishing the id luck, of course, but how about a couple of lessons from his old man?

Don Gehrman High in Relays

DES MOINES, May 2.—(P)—Thrilling finishes and plentiful broken records were not at the 10th annual Drake relays.

Only two new relays marks were set — in the 400 and 200-yard hurdles. The hurdles mark was more or less automatic, since the event had appeared only once before on the relays program.

Two of the fastest finishes were staged by Don Gehrman, Wisconsin's 135-pound speed merchant, in the distance and sprint medley relays. Sports writers concurring the event voted him the outstanding performer in the Drake classic this year.

Probably the greatest individual performance of the relays was Gehrman's mile sprint in the distance medley. When he got the baton, he trailed Bill Mix of Michigan State by 25 yards. He blazed past Kansas and California and barely managed to whisk ahead of Mack at the tape. He was clocked in 4:13.1.

In the sprint medley, Gehrman cut loose with a 1:51.1 half mile to shade Harold Tarrant of Oklahoma A&M and Michigan State's Jack Dianetti.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, May 2.—(P)—Bill Billings, sports editor of the Bismarck, N. D., Tribune, has an answer to the question recently raised in this corner about what has become of the "hungry young kids" in professional golf.

One of them is 20-year-old Paul O'Leary from Bismarck. . . . Paul, Bill says, could negotiate the hilly nine-hole local course in the low 40's when he was only nine years old. He won his first city title at 13 on the state amateur championship in 1946, '47 and '48. Then he decided to turn pro and give the others a chance. . . . North Dakota fans staged dances, exhibitions and the like and raised $1,200 to start Paul on the winter circuit. . . . He finished in the money only once in six tournaments then laid off for two months. . . . He still had $2,400 left when he set out in a 1937 jalopy to make the summer tour. The first stop was Wilmington, N. C., where Paul shot a 64 the first day and dang near won the tournament.

Tenants Given Equal Rights To Landlords

Under Regulation Issued by Office of Housing Expediter

Tenants are given rights equal to landlords in presenting their cases under the new procedural regulations issued by the Office of Housing Expediter, Federal Housing Administration, Washington, D.C., last week.

The new regulation gives either a landlord or his tenants the right to be heard before any Rent Office action is taken on request of the other party. Mr. Sterling explained that the right to be heard extends only to the local Rent Office, but the Offices of the Regional Housing Expediter and the National Housing Expediter.

In this new "bill of rights," a landlord or tenant who is dissatisfied with a decision of the Rent Office has the right to appeal to the Regional Housing Expediter, and if still dissatisfied, to the National Housing Expediter. The new regulation also gives the tenant the right to be heard before any action is taken on request of the landlord. Mr. Sterling explained that the right to be heard extends only to the local Rent Office, but the Offices of the Regional Housing Expediter and the National Housing Expediter.

Area Office Decision Final The Area Office decision is final, unless a party appeals to the Regional Housing Expediter. Mr. Sterling explained that the right to be heard extends only to the local Rent Office, but the Offices of the Regional Housing Expediter and the National Housing Expediter.

THWARTED as a person trying to slam a swinging door, I flounced out to the kitchen to mix up the butter spread: a pound of okomargarine at eight red points and a quarter of a pound of butter at seven, mixed together with a pinch of salt and yellow coloring.

It must have been while I was in the kitchen that Roger unpacked his bags; for when I returned to the garden room, there he lay, stretched out on my chaise longue attired in his terry cloth robe and slippers, with a highball in his hand. "Hi, there!" he greeted me cordially. "Just in time to referee a little game of pinocchio."

That was another thing about Roger that irked me: he played games such as rummy and pinocchio and cribbage very ably. Robbie was expert at pinckings and I'd estimated that Roger had won back every dime, maybe more, that he'd paid for rent. "That burns me up," I told Robbie. "I don't see why," he answered. "I like to play cards and it's a lot easier to sit here evenings and take Roger on than to go out looking for a game." "I know," I said, "but he always wins." "He plays better than I do," Robbie said. "Well, anyway," I looked at him. "Well, by philosophy, it's the principle of the thing," Rob said quickly, being allergic to misrepresentation. "You know it's the money that grates you." It was, too. I was sick of being taken in in every way by Roger.

I heard the cause of my irritation say, "Colonel Hartwicke decided he'd like to return uptown. He left messages of appreciation." I wondered how Roger made through hoops at strategic times for his ever-up or benefit, though why, after the antics he put me

"I want to talk to you," the angelic voice went on. "I rang the front door chimbs but no one answered. I knew you were home. I could hear you."

"I'm washing," I said bluntly, determined not to encourage this Lorelei. "If you care to wait, when I carry up the next basket of clothes, I'll see you."

"I'd be glad to," she chirruped. I took my time, noting with grim satisfaction that I was dressed like a Fury (I have a fixation on the subject of not being able to work in a decent, clean dress) and that my appearance alone would discourage any applicant for a room.

Eventually the clothes basket was filled and I trudged up the basement stairs with it. In a flash the back screen door opened and a young creature relieved me of the heavy basket, carried it out-of-doors to the clothes reel, and began at once to shake out the washing and pin it to the line. I looked at my slatternly dress and shabby shoes and wished the ground would open and swallow me. For this girl was young and beautiful, with a mass of chestnut curls, clear skin, and large gray-green eyes, full mouth that had a jolly expression, white teeth as even as beads, regular features, and a perfect figure. And she was smartly dressed. More than that, she had a personality which reached out and shook me by the hand—shook me to the soles of my feet. I was experiencing love at first sight. I was dippy over that girl. Dithering and dithering, I attempted to keep pace while she hung up the laundry. When she said, "Mutual friends . . ." I interrupted her to say, "Yes, yes, go on." I wanted to send them flowers.

"Whoopie!" I exclaimed. "It worked!"

"Hush," Rob signaled. "Roger," pointing toward the kitchen, "is getting supper."

"You double-crosser!" I exploded. "You let him stay."

"Never said I wouldn't," Rob answered. "You're the one with head erect and tail over the dashboard. Rodgers is Rodgers. I still can't see what difference it makes which ones we keep."

It was in disillusionment and bitterness that I attacked the washing Monday, and when the
